NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. CORPORATE AND GROUP INFORMATION

The Company was incorporated as an exempted company with limited liability in the Cayman Islands on 23 June 2006 under the Companies Law, Chapter 22 (Law 3 of 1961, as consolidated and revised) of the Cayman Islands.

The registered address of the Company is Cricket Square, Hutchins Drive, P.O. Box 2681, Grand Cayman KY1-1111, Cayman Islands and the principal place of business is changed from 9th Floor, Tower One, Lippo Centre, 89 Queensway, Hong Kong to 6/F, Building 20E, Phase 3, Hong Kong Science Park, 20 Science Park East Avenue, Shatin, New Territories, Hong Kong with effect from 16 April 2018.

During the year, the Group is principally engaged in the research and development, design, manufacture and trading of electronic control products.

2.1 BASIS OF PREPARATION

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards (“HKFRSs”) (which include all Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards, Hong Kong Accounting Standards (“HKASs”) and Interpretations) issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (“HKICPA”), accounting principles generally accepted in Hong Kong and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance. They have been prepared under the historical cost convention, except for derivative financial instruments which have been measured at fair value. These financial statements are presented in Hong Kong dollars (“HK$”) and all values are rounded to the nearest thousand except when otherwise indicated.

Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries for the year ended 31 March 2018. A subsidiary is an entity (including a structured entity), directly or indirectly, controlled by the Company. Control is achieved when the Group is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the investee (i.e., existing rights that give the Group the current ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee).

When the Company has, directly or indirectly, less than a majority of the voting or similar rights of an investee, the Group considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether it has power over an investee, including:

- (a) the contractual arrangement with the other vote holders of the investee;
- (b) rights arising from other contractual arrangements; and
- (c) the Group’s voting rights and potential voting rights.

The financial statements of the subsidiaries are prepared for the same reporting period as the Company, using consistent accounting policies. The results of subsidiaries are consolidated from the date on which the Group obtains control, and continue to be consolidated until the date that such control ceases.

Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests, even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance. All intra-group assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

The Group reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control described in the accounting policy for subsidiaries above. A change in the ownership interest of a subsidiary, without a loss of control, is accounted for as an equity transaction.

If the Group loses control over a subsidiary, it derecognises (i) the assets (including goodwill) and liabilities of the subsidiary, (ii) the carrying amount of any non-controlling interest and (iii) the cumulative translation differences recorded in equity; and recognises (i) the fair value of the consideration received, (ii) the fair value of any investment retained and (iii) any resulting surplus or deficit in profit or loss. The Group's share of components previously recognised in other comprehensive income is reclassified to profit or loss or retained profits, as appropriate, on the same basis as would be required if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities.

2.2 CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND DISCLOSURES

The Group has adopted the following revised HKFRSs for the first time for the current year's financial statements.

Amendments to HKAS 7	Disclosure Initiative
Amendments to HKAS 12	Recognition of Deferred Tax Assets for Unrealised Losses
Amendments to HKFRS 12 included in Annual Improvements to HKFRSs 2014-2016 Cycle	Disclosure of Interests in Other Entities: Clarification of the Scope of HKFRS 12

Other than as explained below regarding the impact of Amendments to HKAS 7, the adoption of the above revised standards has had no significant financial effect on these financial statements.

Amendments to HKAS 7 require an entity to provide disclosures that enable users of financial statements to evaluate changes in liabilities arising from financing activities, including both changes arising from cash flows and non-cash changes.

3. OPERATING SEGMENT INFORMATION

For management purposes, the Group is organised into business units based on their products and services and has three reportable operating segments as follows:

- (a) the building and home controls segment, which is engaged in the research and development, design, manufacture, trading and distribution of building and home control products;
- (b) the appliance controls segment, which is engaged in the research and development, design, manufacture, trading and distribution of appliance control products; and
- (c) the commercial and industrial controls segment, which is engaged in the research and development, design, manufacture, trading and distribution of commercial and industrial control products.

Management monitors the results of its operating segments separately for the purpose of making decisions about resources allocation and performance assessment. Segment performance is evaluated based on reportable segment profit, which is a measure of adjusted profit before tax. The adjusted profit before tax is measured consistently with the Group's profit before tax except that other income, finance costs, share of profit of an associate as well as corporate and unallocated expenses are excluded from such measurement.

Segment assets mainly exclude property, plant and equipment, goodwill, a club debenture, cash and cash equivalents, an available-for-sale investment, derivative financial instruments, tax recoverable, deferred tax assets, certain balances of intangible assets, trade receivables, inventories, and prepayments, deposits and other receivables attributable to the distribution business line, and corporate and other unallocated assets as these assets are managed on a group basis.

Segment liabilities mainly exclude interest-bearing bank borrowings, derivative financial instruments, tax payable, an amount due to a non-controlling shareholder, deferred tax liabilities, certain balances of trade and bills payables and other payables and accruals attributable to the distribution business line, and corporate and other unallocated liabilities as these liabilities are managed on a group basis.

Inter-segment revenue and transfers are transacted with reference to the selling prices used for sales made to third parties at the then prevailing market prices.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Financial Performance

During FY2018, Computime recorded revenue of HK$3,867.5 million, a year-on-year increase of 5.0%, driven by new key customers as well as growth of certain existing customers. More importantly, we have been growing the more profitable segments of the business, with a 9.9% year-on-year growth for the combined Commercial and Industrial Controls (“CIC”) and Building and Home Controls (“BHC”) segments, while the lower margin Appliance Controls (“APC”) segment recorded a 1.8% reduction. The combined CIC and BHC segments accounted for 60.5% of the Company’s total revenue in FY2018, compared to 57.8% in FY2017.

Gross profit for the Year amounted to HK$562.7 million, an increase of 4.2% compared to FY2017, while gross profit margin fell slightly from 14.7% in FY2017 to 14.5% in FY2018. Higher sales volume and more favorable revenue mix in terms of operating segments, combined with operational efficiencies and cost controls, all had favorable impact on gross margin. However, these benefits were offset by the performance in the second half of FY2018, which saw a significant rise in the prices of certain raw material commodities.

In FY2017, a one-time fee income of HK$10.2 million was recorded from a vendor who executed an early termination of distribution right in our brand distribution division, while income of this nature was absent in FY2018. We made a strategic decision during the Year to gradually scale down the brand distribution division in order to focus our resources on our core capabilities in Internet-of-Things (“IoT”) related technologies to capture the vast market opportunities in the smart home area.

Total operating expenses (selling, distribution, administrative and other operating expenses) rose by 1.7% to HK$395.4 million. As a percentage of total revenue, they improved from 10.6% to 10.2%. The increase in total operating expenses was mainly attributable to office expansion, marketing and sales initiatives, and research and development (“R&D”) related to the Company’s own line of branded products, SALUS, in Europe and North America. Other notable increase in expenses included higher transportation and freight charges due to higher business volume, as well as higher professional fees spent on consulting projects in the areas of risk management and corporate governance reporting, which offset the positive currency impact from RMB and GBP during the Year.

The Company continuously invests in R&D to advance its technologies and upgrade its smart home comfort solutions. We recently received the prestigious Hong Kong Information and Communications Technology Awards 2018, which recognized the Company for developing and commercializing a smart home solution with technological innovation and creativity. During the Year, gross R&D spending increased by 8.2% to HK$76.5 million, representing 2.0% of total revenue.

Net profit of the Company was largely in line with FY2017 at HK$126.4 million. However, excluding the non-core brand distribution business, net profit increased by 10.3% in FY2018, continuing the growth momentum experienced in the past five fiscal years.

Inventory balance increased slightly by 1.8% to HK$638.3 million, as the Company continued to utilize effective up front controls to minimize inventory investments. However, supply constraints for certain electronic components continue to be severe, and if this problem persists, our inventory level could be affected in the future.

The Company continued to focus on monitoring and controlling trade receivables, inventory and trade payables to maintain a healthy and sustainable liquidity position. During the Year, we continued to exercise effective credit controls to reduce overdue trade receivables, improving turnover days by 9 days. At the same time, the Company carefully balanced sufficient inventory on hand to meet customers' needs while avoiding unnecessary inventory that ties up working capital. As at 31 March 2018, the Group effectively maintained an optimal level of inventory with turnover days improving by 2 days. However, under a tight material market, we accelerated our payments to ensure sufficient supply of raw materials in the future. We also strived to manage purchase of materials in line with customers' requirements which led to lower trade payables toward the end of the Year. Coupled with the earlier payment settlement, trade payables turnover days decreased considerably.

The Company maintained a healthy cash and cash equivalents balance of HK$729.6 million, and a net cash position of HK$478.9 million as of the end of FY2018. This strong cash and net cash position will provide flexibility for the Company if there is a sudden cash need, especially in the current tight material market.

Business Review

The APC segment saw a revenue decrease of 1.8% to HK$1,527.2 million in FY2018, as the Company deliberately diverted resources away from low margin product lines within this segment. We successfully won orders from existing customers for higher value-added projects. The segment margin improved from 1.8% in FY2017 to 2.1% to FY2018 driven by labor cost savings through the adoption of automation and lean manufacturing which more than offset customer price reductions.

The CIC segment revenue grew by 28.4% to HK$817.6 million in FY2018 due to increased orders from a couple of key existing customers, alongside a number of new accounts in the entertainment and lifestyle sectors. Benefiting from higher sales volume and labor efficiency improvement, we managed to increase the segment margin from 6.3% in FY2017 to 7.1% in FY2018. The Company believes that the CIC segment will continue to be a key growth driver as our customers introduce more advanced products that require sophisticated technologies and complex engineering, which are Computime's key competitive strengths.

The BHC segment reported revenue of HK$1,522.7 million in FY2018, a modest increase of 2.0%. Following robust growth in the first half of FY2018, the BHC segment saw a decline in revenue in the second half due to considerable slowdown of orders from a couple of key customers as compared to the first half of the Year. Combined with expenses associated with expansion of the SALUS business and higher costs in certain raw materials in the second half, the full year segment margin dropped slightly from 13.7% in FY2017 to 12.0% in FY2018.

The SALUS business, which is included within the BHC segment, generated revenue in line with that of the prior year in local currency terms. SALUS is the Company's own line of proprietary thermostatic controls and home automation products sold in Europe and North America. The UK construction market continued to be mired by Brexit uncertainties, negatively affecting sales of SALUS products in the UK as wholesalers and distributors adopted more conservative purchasing strategies. However, in the rest of the European territories, especially the Nordic regions, SALUS posted an overall healthy sales growth. During the Year, a number of new products were launched and well received by the market, including the innovative Auto Balancing Actuator, a patent pending revolutionary product that resolves some of the toughest challenges faced by underfloor heating system installers and customers.

Industry Analysis

The Company believes that the Electronic Manufacturing Services (“EMS”) industry is fundamentally sound and has opportunities for growth. As wireless technologies mature, products are achieving higher levels of technical capability, and with this trend, there is increasing demand for value-added manufacturing capability. Our customers are no longer looking for pure manufacturers to build their products, but instead seek manufacturers that are able to contribute ideas and innovation to their products. According to New Venture Research's current estimates, the EMS industry was worth US$457.5 billion in 2017, and is expected to grow to US$615.4 billion by 2021, at a CAGR of 7.5%. These statistics are a promising sign for the EMS industry as a whole, and the Company will focus on growing its technological competency to offer ODM and other higher-margin value-added services to its customers.

With the advent of more advanced wireless technologies, the smart home market has seen robust growth over the last few years. In a research by MarketsandMarkets, the global smart home market is expected to be valued at US$137.9 billion by 2023, growing at a CAGR of 13.6% between 2017 and 2023. This is primarily driven by growth in IoT, rising need for energy saving and convenience, as well as rapid proliferation of smartphones and smart gadgets. With a focus on energy efficiency and home comfort, our SALUS brand is well-positioned to capture the attractive opportunities in the smart home market.

Outlook

We are cautiously optimistic for the year ending 31 March 2019 (“FY2019”) and target to record relatively stable revenue, but a number of factors could come into play that may affect our performance. While we expect the growth momentum for our higher margin businesses will continue given the strong demand for our products and services in these areas, certain macro issues could potentially dominate during FY2019 and affect our short term overall performance. Factors such as the ongoing global trade disputes, or the constrained supply of certain critical electronic components, could potentially lead to lower orders and fulfillments by the Company during FY2019. We will continue to execute plans and strategies to manage these factors to the best of our abilities to deliver the best possible results.

The Company will also continue to invest in expanding SALUS' market presence in both North America and Europe, as the business gains traction in these two markets. While Brexit has dampened the UK housing market, negatively impacting SALUS' business in the country, the Company has a business strategy in place and new products in the pipeline to recover UK sales and accelerate growth in FY2019. SALUS will also look to pursue more opportunities to participate in large scale smart home projects to generate new sources of revenue. For example, SALUS recently entered into a strategic alliance in the UK to become the designated provider of smart heating control devices for a large global electronics conglomerate in their participation in utility tenders for smart home projects.

On the costs side, we will continue to drive initiatives to improve operational efficiency through lean manufacturing and automation. However, there does not appear to be short term relief for the tight supply of certain critical electronic components. As a result, rising material costs will put pressure on the gross profit margin, and the magnitude of the impact is uncertain.

The ongoing trade dispute between the US and China may further escalate geopolitical tensions, potentially resulting in negative economic impact worldwide. While in the short term, there is no easy way for any China-based manufacturers to switch their manufacturing base, Computime is working actively towards mitigating any effects that the potential tariffs may have if they are fully implemented in the long term. The Company is exploring other strategies to diversify risks, including partially relocating production lines. We are hopeful that this dispute can be resolved in due course, but the final outcome may have an impact on the Company's performance in the future.

Looking forward into the longer term, we strongly believe our plans and strategies will deliver exceptional results for our customers and shareholders. Leveraging our solid manufacturing foundation and increasingly sophisticated technical capabilities, we have a strong portfolio of innovative IoT-related technologies with increasingly wider applications to serve our EMS customers. The Company's EMS business will continue to serve as a foundation of support as we invest in more advanced technologies while expanding the SALUS brand, where we are increasingly being recognized as an industry leader in the smart home comfort space. We are confident that as we successfully execute our plans, both the EMS and SALUS businesses will drive extraordinary financial performance for Computime in the long run.
